

The Bravest

A dedication and tribute to three of NY's Bravest (firefighter Christopher Bopp, James Bohan, and Fire LT. Joseph Cavalieri) whom gave their precious lives courageously, and unselfishly to save another.

But three brave and courageous, dedicated, honorable men

Three ment brought together by life's destiny, united heroically to save the life of a fellow human being To the, it was not just a performance in the line of duty

But a dangerous mission, that unselfshily had to be fulfilled

They brave the thickness of the blinding smoke

The heat of the raging flames, intense as they were,
with total disregard for their own safety, in search of another

Without fear in their heart

They proceed head on, to the heat and flames of the fiery nferno,
Not knowing death was lurking, but a few steps away, to claim three God Loving Men

May they not be forgotten, and their names be remembered, for all time
For their humane and heroic deeds
To Family And Friends, bear on things in mind
They Did Not Die In Vain
